Almanzora

€109,990

A cosy and comfortable single Storey house for sale in the village of Almanzora here in Almeria Province. The property has an authentic cottage feel with decorative stone cladding fitted to the front facade and a nicely decorated porch at the entrance. The house opens up to a hallway and comprises of three bedrooms on the left hand side, with the main bedroom having a nicely decorated en-suite bathroom with shower tray and vanity unit. On this side of the house there is a second bathroom also fitted with shower tray and vanity unit to serve the other two bedrooms. A dining room area to the right of the hallway leads through to a lounge area which has a pellet burner installed. The lounge is connected to the kitchen and a door from the kitchen leads out to a small patio area with a store cupboard. Stairs from the patio lead up to a roof terrace which has solar panels installed to provide electricity for the house.

A lovely property that has been well cared for and is situated in a quiet street in the village. Almanzora village has several bars, a couple of supermarkets and a pharmacy and is a short drive away to the larger towns of Cantoria and Albox and the motorway is in easy reach for the coast and the rest of the Almanzora Valley.
